COURSE DESCRIPTION:

What is law? Is law different from morality? Why? Why do people obey the law? Is the command of a robber different from that of a legitimate authority? Philosophy of law tries to answer these questions. It is a rich and profound subject. We will encounter the classical legal philosophers: H.L.A. Hart, Hans Kelsen, Joseph Raz, John Finnis, Lon Fuller, and Ronald Dworkin. We will debate some of the most pressing topics in legal philosophy: the nature of law, the relationship between law and morality, the obligation to obey the law, and the problems of interpretation. This list is by no means exhaustive. But the course will give you the tools to analyze and frame complex legal arguments. You will learn how to work with legal rules, interpretative techniques, and rhetorical strategies. You will move from your everyday understanding of legal rules to a general, more abstract, understanding of the nature of law. You will master textual, contextual, and interdisciplinary approaches to legal inquiry. In short, you will learn how to reflect on the nature of law, authority, and order.

The course will be organized around the most important book of legal philosophy: H.L.A. Hart’s “The Concept of Law”. Even though it was written as a primer for British undergraduate students, it quickly became the center of every philosophical discussion about the nature of law. Hart’s versatile writing style, original answers to thorny philosophical questions, and clear exposition of the nature of law are the main reasons that make this book suitable for undergraduate classes and highbrow philosophical colloquia alike. I will introduce you to the intellectual climate that influenced Hart, especially his exposure to the ordinary language philosophy and the work of J.L. Austin. Hart embraced Austin’s claim that “a sharpened awareness of words to sharpen our perception of the phenomena” and deployed it in the course of his book. Hart’s ideas will also be viewed as a matter of theory construction. You will learn how Hart's embrace of a particular mode of theorizing affected his claims about the nature of law. By doing this, you will explore how the theory construction enables and constrains the types of substantive claims that scholars make in law, philosophy, and social science. In particular, you will learn how the mode of theorizing highlights the difference between Hart's theory of law and the one proposed by one of his main interlocutor, Hans Kelsen. As a result, you will learn how to construct, understand, and reflect upon legal theoretical claims.

You will encounter different styles of analysis and argumentation. Understanding these styles might prove challenging. Because of this, be prepared to discuss them during the class. The class discussion is a deliberative exercise: you are expected to contribute to it because everyone will benefit from a vigorous exchange of ideas. In addition, please respect your colleagues' views because we will study problems open to multiple interpretations. Don't forget that collegiality and tolerance are virtues not vices.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

Students in this course will:

- Explore the foundations of legal philosophy
- Learn how to articulate, construct, and justify legal arguments
- Refine their writing, editing, and presentation skills

COURSE TEXTS:

1. Brian H. Bix, "Jurisprudence: Theory and Context", 8th edn [hereinafter JTC] (Carolina Academic Press, 2019). Please check carefully and don't buy previous editions of the book.
2. H.L.A. Hart. The Concept of Law, 3rd edn. (Oxford University Press, 2012) [hereinafter CL]. Please check carefully and don't buy previous editions of the book.
3. Additional readings will be posted on the Canvas web site.

EXAMINATIONS AND ACADEMIC HONESTY:

- I will not be able to change exams' parameters and presentation dates except in the following cases: a medical emergency, which must be properly documented, and a death in the immediate family.
- Absences from class must be properly documented. An absence without proper documentation will be counted as an unexcused one. Two or more unexcused absences will result in lowering of your attendance and participation grade.
- Depending on our progress, there might be changes in the schedule. You will be notified of all changes in advance.
- No extra credit assignments will be offered.
- Please note that UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor in this class. Please note that this is a research-intensive course. Because of this, plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Students are required to read, understand, and abide by the University of Florida Academic Honesty policy. The policy can be found here: <https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/student-conduct-code/>. All violations of the said policy will be reported in accordance with the process outlined in it.

- The requirements in the syllabus are consistent with the UF grading policy. The policy can be found here: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/grades-grading-policies/>

GRADE CONCERNS:

If a student disagrees with her grade, she must outline her concerns in writing within 48 hours of receiving the grade. I will not accept grade concern statements after the expiration of the 48-hour period. The statement must contain a reasoned claim backed by textual evidence. After evaluating the merit of the claim, I will do one of the following: 1) increase the grade; 2) lower the grade; or, 3) leave the grade unchanged. The student will be notified about my decision within a reasonable time frame and the grade will be adjusted accordingly. Please note that this policy will not be applicable to the final paper and the overall final grade.

ATTENDANCE:

- Please be advised that class attendance is mandatory. I reserve the right to revise your grade one grade step down (e.g. B+ to B) for systemic unexcused absences from class (two or more absences).
- Arrive on time. I reserve the right to lower your attention and participation grade in cases of systematic tardiness. I define systematic tardiness as “three or more late arrivals to class.”
- Do not leave early. If you leave early three or more times, I reserve the right to lower your attention and participation grade.
- Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

INCOMPLETES:

Incompletes will be granted under exceptional circumstances. A student who wants to receive an incomplete must: (1) inform the professor 10 (ten) days prior to the last day of class and (2) provide a written explanation about the reasons necessitating the incomplete. These reasons must be properly documented. In addition, the student must provide a written plan for finishing the missing work. The student must complete the work during the following semester. Failure to complete the work will result in an E.

COURSE EVALUATIONS:

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/> . Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/> . Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

ACCOMMODATIONS:

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Faculty can expect to receive a student's accommodation letter within the first 3 weeks of classes; however, if a student registers with the DRC later in the semester faculty are still obligated to facilitate accommodations. Neither faculty nor administrators may independently deny a request for accommodation that is approved by the Disability Resource Center.

Students are also advised to explore the opportunities offered by the UF Disability Resource Center. The Center is located at 001 Reid Hall, web page: <https://disability.ufl.edu/#> .

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Ensure that you have a reliable access to Canvas because it will be used extensively throughout the semester. Note that you will be responsible for printing or viewing the assigned material.
- Read the materials in advance and in the order indicated in the syllabus.
- Turn off your cell phones before coming to class.
- Restrict the use of electronic devices to class-related activities, e.g., note-taking or article reading.
- Please do not eat in class. Drinks in closed containers are permitted.
- Please note that I will call people in class. This means that it's your responsibility to be prepared at all times. I reserve the right to lower your participation grade if you are unprepared.

RECORDINGS: No recording of the class discussion is permitted.
