Course Description:

The course invites students to explore and better understand the economic and political ideas and functions of the so-called existing socialism in the 20th century. Economic concepts played important role at many stages of communist history, ranging from the utopia of war communism, through Stalinist political economy, all the way to the doctrines of workers' self-management and market socialism.

The model of the socialist plan economy has been formulated as an efficient and alternative method to the capitalism and market economy. This plan was created by the radical intellectuals (economists and other social scientists), revolutionaries, workers' movement leaders and ideologues of the communist state through the history. After few years of practice, it turned out that the project was defective and the whole structure had serious malfunctions from the beginning. The subject of the course is the paradox learning process of the socialist economy which ended with the collapse of the socialist system.

Course Objectives:

The goal of the course is to help understand the history of communist economies and societies by exploring a long detour in the history of universal economic thought. Because the economic concepts will be discussed in the context of both communist history and (Western) economic theory, the students may develop a variety of skills in multi-disciplinary research on intellectual history.

To help students develop analytical skills, the course is divided into three parts. The first part explores theories of ideologies, economic systems, varieties of capitalism and communism and models of central planning. The classical Soviet model, its origin, operation, and performance are explored in part two. The third part of the course will focus on different countries (especially Central Eastern European countries) who adopted the Soviet model and experienced the advantages/disadvantages of the socialist economy. This part of the course will also focus on non-Central-Eastern European countries, who adopted the Soviet model or just used components of the socialist economy.

Required Materials and Supplies Fees:

Readings and recommended materials will be posted on the e-learning website. There is no required textbook for this course. There are no additional fees for the course.

Evaluation of Grades:

- Class Participation (including attendance) 2x10%=20%
- Review Papers - 3 papers total (week 5/week10/week15) 3x20 = 60%

- Course Project and Presentation 1x20% =20%

Class Participation (2x10%):

Attendance (10% of grade). One unexcused absence over the course of the semester is allowed; after that, unexcused absences count against your attendance grade. Excused absences do not count against your grade, but these require prior consultation with the instructor. (See detailed UF Attendance Policy below)

Active participation (10% of grade) Students are expected to attend class and participate actively, share their opinions and questions, and take part in discussions. Required texts will be addressed in the discussions and their reading is mandatory. Student participation is a very important component of this course and any form of verbal involvement in class contributes to its grade. Full and active engagement with the readings, lectures, and discussions in the class is expected.

Evaluate your performance after every week. Here is the instruction:

0 point = You did not speak in any meetings this week or comments showed that you did not prepare for the class (did not watch visual materials, did not read the required reading)

1 = You participated in discussion in a meaningful way (understood the readings and could ask informed questions)

2 = Excellent performance (sophisticated analysis of readings, made connections between readings, added information/theory from outside of readings)

Review Papers (3x20%):

The course will be divided into three parts. Students will complete and submit a take-home review paper after each part.

The paper should cover the content of the lectures and the provided reading and visual materials.

The expected schedule of the Review Papers: at the end of week5/week10/week15.

Detailed guidelines will be provided.

Course Project and Presentation (20%):

Students will do a classroom project during the semester. Classroom projects (depending on enrollment) will be presented in-class after around week 10. Presentation should be completed when it is scheduled. The ppt presentation with audio explanation should be send to the instructor one week before it is scheduled. This can avoid the situation if student can't make the in-class presentation or synchronous online presentation.

The project will be a Case Study of Soviet-type economic systems (classical or reform stages) in one of the socialist or non-socialist countries who were forced to adopt the socialist economic system, or who voluntary adopted some socialist component in their economy between 1945-1990.

Students will choose their topic between week 4 and week 7, confirm and discuss the direction of the topic with the instructor during office hour. Guidelines will be provided.

Grading Scale:

A = 94-100%	B+ = 87-89%	C+ = 77-79%	D+ = 67-69%	E = 59% and below
A- = 90-93%	B = 83-86%	C = 73-76%	D = 66-63
	B- = 80-82%	C- = 70-72%	D- = 60-62

For more information see “Grades and Grading Policies”

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/grades-grading-policies/>

Class Attendance and Make-Up Policy:

Attendance and participation are required for success. They not only constitute 20% of your grade. Repeated absences also affect your performance on exams (even take-home exams) since they will be based on lectures and discussions. Missing class likewise means missing participation and falling behind in other assignments.

According to the Office of the University Registrar, “acceptable reasons for absence from class include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular requirements (e.g., judging trips, field trips, and professional conferences), military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition or debate. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be excused.” For further information about the University of Florida's attendance policy, please see the current Undergraduate Catalogue (<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>)

I will only schedule make-ups or change the submission deadline for students who contact me by email at least a day before the assignment is due and who can provide official documentation why they were physically unable to take the exam.

Students' Responsibilities:

- Every Saturday afternoon I will post a Canvas Announcement about next week assignments, discussions, on-campus events that can connect to our course (ie. invited presentation, film screening, exhibition etc.). You will be responsible to read the Weekly Announcement and check the links I will post or mention.
 - Reading or visual materials will be available every Saturday afternoon on Canvas, under Canvas Pages tab: "Preparation for Tuesday class" or "Preparation for Thursday class". You will be responsible for viewing and reading the assigned materials.
 - Electronic devices are not allowed in classroom, only if we have a specific in-class activity that requires it, or if it helps to facilitate conversation or if you're taking class notes.
 - Please note that I will call people in class. This means it's your responsibility to be always prepared. I reserve the right to lower your participation grade if you are unprepared.
 - Students are required to visit one office hour during the semester (preferably between week 4 and week 10) and talk to the course instructor about his/her progress and the course project.
 - University of Florida requires that you use your UF Gatorlink account for university (and class) related email communication. Please see <http://www.it.ufl.edu/policies/#email> to read more on this policy.
 - Auditors are requested to complete assignments and prepare for class as if they were registered as regular students. If an auditor does not fulfill these requirements, he/she will be asked to withdraw from the course.

Students Requiring Accommodations:

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting

<https://disability.ufl.edu/students/accommodations/accommodation-letters/>

It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Faculty can expect to receive a student's accommodation letter within the first 3 weeks of classes; however, if a student registers with the DRC later in the semester faculty are still obligated to facilitate accommodations. Neither faculty nor administrators may independently deny a request for accommodation that is approved by the Disability Resource Center.

Students are also advised to explore the opportunities offered by the UF Disability Resource Center. The Center is located at 001 Reid Hall, web page: <https://disability.ufl.edu>

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code (<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor.

Class Demeanor

Students are expected to arrive to class on time and behave in a manner that is respectful to the instructor and to fellow students. Please avoid the use of cell phones and restrict eating to outside of the classroom. Opinions held by other students should be respected in discussion, and conversations that do not contribute to the discussion should be held at minimum, if at all.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>

Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>

Counseling and Wellness Center

Contact information for the Counseling and Wellness Center: <http://www.counseling.ufl.edu> or 352-392-1575; and the University Police Department: 352-392-1111 or 9-1-1 for emergencies

Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
